

Shanghai
20-09-06

Hello Mum & Dad, Well, here I am in the HUGE city of Shanghai!

The shopping is amazing! (which is one of the reasons I am here) Gee, the people here are so dressed up and fashion conscious. I feel a bit underdressed in my old shorts, T-shirt and sandals — but it's July and very hot and humid (33°C) Phew! The skyscrapers are thick and in the background I can see the famous Pearl Tower which is 468 metres high. It's the third highest TV tower in the world and overlooks the Huangpu River, Shanghai has the most beautiful old British Colonial style buildings, and Nanjing Road is the main (and very fashionable) shopping street, it's so busy that I am finding it very difficult to actually move around, I think the crowds are the hardest part for me to cope with in this city. Shanghai is the largest industrial city in China, For out! Can you believe it has a population of 18 million people?

Hey, better go — Dinner time, now what will I eat tonight mmm — Chinese, Indian, Thai, French, Italian, ..... lots to choose from — Bye Bill.

Mr & Mrs Smith
Billycart Road
Cairns 4870
Qld
Australia

P.S. I've taken lots of photos!

Greetings from Shanghai